

If the Clear channel owned cookie cutter programming formats were not so abhorring. They would not have to be so concerned about the future.

We still listen to local stations to get a lot of information.

But as usual lobbyists for both sides are playng politics. Let the locals and satellites fight it out and the listenens will ultimately decide.

Unfortunately, that is what the locals are afraid of.